Copyright and Publication Rights Agreement

Submission of your paper for publication in the Journal of Water Management Modeling constitutes:

- i) The understanding that authors retain copyright of their paper.
- ii) The authors confirmation the paper has not been published previously, is not being considered for publication elsewhere, and is not a violation of copyright or prior ownership.
- iii) The understanding that if parts of the material (i.e., text, figures, or tables) have been published elsewhere, permission for their reproduction must be obtained from the copyright owners and full acknowledgement made in the paper.
- iv) The understanding that CHI will have the right to publish the paper, and it will be licensed under a Creative Commons Attribution 4.0 International License, which permits unrestricted use, distribution, and reproduction in any medium.
